If you manage to stop the timber industry from cutting this forest, they'll cut that forest.
If you stop oil drilling here, they'll go drill
there.

The background of the advertisement is a photograph of a modern lounge. In the foreground, there is a long, low brown sofa with several cushions. To the left of the sofa, there is a small table with a potted plant. In the background, there are large windows that look out onto a city at night, with blurred lights visible. The ceiling has recessed lighting.
